Many Irrigation Wells To Insure Better '53 Crops

Water for Randall County crops will not be as scarce in 1953 as it was in 1952. Even though the rainfall be low again, the great many irrigation wells will make a big difference.

The task of counting the wells in Randall County is a big one. Last summer, before the new interest in wells developed, most estimates called for about 300 wells. What the number is now is anyone's guess.

In the last six months, more wells have been drilled in Randall County than in any similar period. Drillers from Hereford, Plainview, and other areas have worked steadily here but find themselves two months behind. Land owners that have even a remote possibility of finding irrigation water are making the trial now.

The High Plains Underground Conservation District will exercise its power to require drilling permits for irrigation wells effective February 1, 1953. Permits must be got before wells capable of producing water in excess of 100,000 gallons per day are drilled.

Permits will be required only in that portion of the reservoir that voted into the district. The northwest portion and the south and east portions of Randall County lie within the district.

Before final approval of a drilling permit is given, the land owner must comply with district rules on spacing. When these regulations are complied with, the law so specifies that a land owner shall not be denied a permit to drill a well.

In each county within the district there are now five elected committeemen. The land owner makes application to this committee on an application blank. The approval of three of the five committee members is necessary before the permit is issued.

The permits are handled on a county basis with a low level administration. Local people make the decisions.

There should be several thousand additional acres of Randall County soil that is almost assured of a crop in 1953.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Brooks Held Monday p. m.

Funeral services for Mrs. Vera Brooks, 32 years old, were held at 3 p. m. Monday at the First Baptist Church here. Mrs. Brooks died at 6:45 p. m. Saturday at Neblett Hospital.

She was the wife of Frank Brooks, an employee of the Ford agency here. The couple lost an infant daughter last Wednesday.

Mrs. Brooks was reared in Oklahoma. She moved here from Shawnee last May. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving relatives include the husband, two brothers, Olin Mannan, Shawnee, Tilman Mannan, Poteau, and a half-brother, Harold Mannan, with the armed services overseas.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

Named as pallbearers were Scaf Cross, Buran Scott, Walter Partidge, Afton Williams, Jack Parsons and Charley Hughes.

"Some unknown person or persons in the vicinity of Canyon is or are helping criminals defy detection," said Postmaster Guy Harp Saturday morning. He was referring to the defaced pictures on the post office bulletin board.

The pictures that are placed on the bulletin board are the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Those pictured on the bulletin board are wanted for various crimes and the more widely known they are the easier detection and prosecution can be made. Anyone marking on the pictures so as to make recognition of the person impossible is helping that criminal remain free.

What these people, who are practicing their art on the pictures of criminals, probably don't know is that they themselves are subject to penalty under the law. Literally they are helping a criminal escape justice and they are defacing public property.

Home After 13 Months in Korea

CPL. ERNEST H. STEPHENS, JR.

Corporal Ernest H. Stephens, Jr., of Happy, arrived home for a furlough recently after having spent 13 months in the Korean Theater. His trip from the Far East was on the U. S. S. General William Mitchell. Also returned to the States on the General Mitchell were some 2,200 members of the Army, Air Force, Navy, and civilian workers and their dependents.

Ernest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Stephens, Sr., of Happy. Young Stephens arrived in San Francisco Thursday, January 8, and got home on the 12th of January.

After spending his 30 day furlough at home, Corporal Stephens will report to El Paso for duty. He has been in service for two years and will have to serve another ten months after reporting to El Paso before receiving his discharge from service.

Local Team Wins At Plainview G-G

Don Boothe, a student at West Texas State College, coached four boxers to third place in the recent Plainview Golden Gloves. The boys were Elmer Clements, 160-pound boy who was champion in his class; Calvin Costley, who went to the semi-finals and lost; Lonnie Davis, 135-pound boy who gave a good account of himself, and Don Roberson, 126-pound boy who was first place champion in his class.

The Plainview Golden Gloves fights were sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, and under direction of Dan McNaughton, the Kiwanis president. The group enjoyed the wonderful hospitality accorded by Mr. McNaughton. On Thursday night when they were snowbound in Plainview arrangements were made for them to sleep in the Hilton Hotel and meals free.

Another interesting sidelight occurred during the fights when the Lubbock coach saw Calvin Costley fight. He liked the boy and invited him to go to Lubbock and fight there. Costley later did and won his bout by knocking his opponent out in 1 minute 27 seconds of the first round.

Three of the fighters will be entered in the Amarillo Golden Gloves. Lonnie Davis came away from the Plainview tournament with a bad eye and will not be able to enter the Amarillo bouts. The Plainview Golden Gloves were conducted from Tuesday, Jan. 19, through Thursday, Jan. 22.

Legion Hall To Be Available to Public

Lee Roy Moreland, commander of the local American Legion, said recently the rules concerning the American Legion Hall had been slightly. The use of the Hall has been set to accommodate more public functions.

Although Moreland stated that the Hall could not be used for private parties and dances, he felt the public should know that such civic functions as banquets and display shows could be held there.

The next meeting of the American Legion is scheduled for Monday evening, February 2. It was also announced that a zone meeting is to be held in Hereford on February 10.

Besides an enjoyable program this meeting will also offer a delicious feed. Following the luncheon there is to be a business meeting for Zone 1, American Legion members.

AAUW PLANS MEETING

The Canyon chapter of AAUW will hold its monthly meeting Monday, February 2, at 7:30 in the evening at the Blue Room of the College Cafeteria. An interesting program for the study group has been planned. Members are urged not to miss.

Farmer Enjoys Mexican Trip

Joe Frank, a local farmer who has a yen for travel, recently returned from an extensive Caribbean air cruise. Frank reports that 16 people were in the party taking the trip. There were 13 men and three women on the cruise which lasted from January 11 until January 24.

From Houston the huge transport carried the party to Havana and from there to Maracaibo, Panama, San Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico City, and finally back to Houston.

Frank reported that the group was entertained in Caracas by William Fletcher Warren, United States Ambassador to that country. He also mentioned a side trip over a primitive Indian village. This interesting trip was made possible by an oil company in that vicinity.

One of the things of interest noted by the farmer was that you could hardly tell a taxicab driver from a rich business tycoon in many of the places he visited. He also mentioned the booming of Caracas. He said the streets were made for burros and that you couldn't get a car down them.

He said a feeling of fear and unrest seemed to prevail in the town. The boom is bringing an odd type of highway through the town. It's to be a three-decker job with one road above the other.

Church of Christ To Move to New Building in Week

Work is practically completed on the new building of the Church of Christ and the congregation plans to hold services in the new building one week from Sunday. Joe Watson, minister of the church, states that all but clean-up work has been completed on the new plant.

The present church building has not been sold, but it is reported that two local congregations are considering buying the site.

Two Moves Made At Court House

Two offices have been changed as the result of changes on the first floor of the court house.

Justice of the Peace Carl Anderson has been given the office at the west door formerly occupied by the Red Cross, together with the Highway Patrol.

The Red Cross office has been moved to the large council room at the east end of the hall, where an office was cut off for this work.

It Could Happen During 1953

It could happen here.

Much worse things have happened to a sleeping town than have the court house moved away over night.

We are not predicting such a thing, but here are the facts:

A well known citizen of Canyon rushed into The News office the other day, stating that he had been told by Amarillo citizens that there was a plot underway to move the court house from Canyon to Amarillo.

This is nothing new, but 1953 was chosen as a good year for the trial. It is figured that the people of Canyon will be asleep on the job, and will not pay their poll taxes in order to vote in any election.

This man declared that citizens of the north part of Randall county are peeved because so many of them have been called to Canyon to serve on juries, and want to stay closer to home if there is to be jury service.

Furthermore, it is pointed out that several years ago a citizen of Amarillo advised that the proper solution would be a union of Potter and Randall counties, with one court house—in Amarillo, of course. He made the suggestion in all seriousness.

To back up this argument, some one advised the latest encyclopedia published that Amarillo was the county seat of Potter and Randall counties! Some one gave the publishers this information. It did not come out of a clear sky. It had to be a lie on the lips of some one who was anxious to see the two counties united. In this case, all political officers in Randall county would forever be out of a job, and with no chance ever to be elected to public office. Amarillo would rule the politics of the two counties.

The only thing you can do is to be on your guard—eternally on your guard. Pay your poll tax now unless you want to see just this very thing happen to Randall county. We don't want to be swallowed up because the people are asleep this January, 1953, and fail to arm themselves with a poll tax receipt.

If there is a union of the two counties, or if the north end of Randall county piles up a necessary majority of two-thirds in this off-election year by rushing in and paying their poll taxes, then there will be a terrible wail from other citizens who have been too much asleep to arm themselves against such a prediction.

Saturday, January 31, is the last day on which you can pay your poll tax.

Do it now!

Thomas Home Is Destroyed by Fire

Fire razed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thomas about noon Thursday and destroyed practically every thing owned by them. Mr. Thomas said the fire was believed to have started some place along the electrical wiring system of the house. The fire occurred between 12 noon and 1 o'clock, in the period the heaviest snow was falling.

Mr. Thomas reported that only one of his children was home. This was Billy Mack who just recently returned from Korea.

The family hoped to extinguish the flame, but by the time they realized their efforts were futile it was too late to save any possessions of real value. Only a few bits of clothing were saved.

The Thomas farm is located about four miles northeast of town.

Few Poll Tax Receipts Sold

From the office of the tax assessor and collector it has been estimated that the total number of poll tax receipts sold this year is between 1,100 and 1,250. This is approximately one-third of the number of qualified voters.

Some of the poll tax receipts are being sold in South Amarillo by the Women's League and the exact number there will not be known until the remaining receipts are turned back to the office at the court house.

Deadline for paying poll tax is January 31st and the office closes at noon Saturdays. If you're going to pay your poll tax you'll have to do it before the office closes at noon next Saturday.

Jury To View Land In Dispute for Road

Hosea Foster has been named by the Commissioners Court to represent Randall county in the dispute over the right-of-way for the Six-mile Crossing road which the State Highway Commission has set up as a Farm-to-Market structure.

Owners of the land living in Amarillo have selected one juror, and the two have selected a third member of the jury to view the road and assess the damages. The county has the right to condemn the land if the price is not within the county's budget.

Mrs. S. L. Price and Mrs. R. L. Carter of Amarillo, and Delores King of Cactus visited in the Jim Carter home Sunday morning.

No Greenbugs In 22 County Survey

A report was received last week at The News about a small grain insect survey carried out during the first 15 days of January. The survey showed no greenbugs were found in the Canyon area and only light infestations showed up in the vicinity of Gruver, the western part of Hansford county, eastern part of Sherman county, north-eastern portion of Moore, and the north part of Hutchinson county. Infestation was described as being light and very light.

The survey report made by Norris E. Daniels, assistant entomologist of the Amarillo Experiment Station, read that it covered 22 counties. Of the 22 Panhandle counties a total of 71 small grain fields were visited. These visits practically blanketed the Panhandle area. Fields visited include those near the Oklahoma line just north of Stratford and Gruver, the New Mexico line at Farwell on the west, nearly to the Oklahoma line east of Miami and south below Floydada.

Randall County wheat growers who find greenbugs should report it to County Agent John Brazil. If this is done the information can be kept up to date.

There are several entomologists available this year to give people here some information about the various insects of this area. Where these insects develop this information proves of great value.

Fifty Copies of New Revised Bible Received Locally

The east window of The News office is filled with copies of the newly Revised Bible, with an adequate stock on hand at the sales counter.

These Bibles are a part of the first order placed, and just arrived Tuesday morning. This shipment of 50 Bibles will not last long as people from over the area are asking for copies to be shipped to them. All of the Bibles in stock at Warwick's is with cloth binding and sell at $6.00 per copy.

Only a few of the $10.00 leather bound books have been received, and went out immediately. An order for a large shipment is pending.

The publishers printed one million Bibles in the original order, and since its popular reception by the public the printing has been increased to 1,500,000, with all of the first million copies quickly sold.

Those who have taken time to study the new Revised Bible are highly pleased with the work of the committee of experts who worked for seven years, bringing the Bible down to date in translation from the original.

The strike of drivers has been underway since the middle of December.

A 3c Larry Roush and wife of San Antonio are visiting his mother and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Larson, and grandmother, Mrs. Muckey.

Lee Wesley and family of Lockney spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Maud Arnold.

Heavy Snow on Plains Brings Power Trouble

There was a heavy snow on the Plains of Texas Thursday which brought six inches of very wet snow, measuring a half inch of moisture.

The snow brought plenty of trouble to workmen of the Southwestern Public Service Company. Lines were in a tangle throughout the town, and the high voltage line into Happy burned out three times in less than 24 hours.

A special crew of six men came from Amarillo to assist the local boys in getting the tangled wires straightened out. This was accomplished by late Thursday, when service was restored.

Not a single pole was lost in Canyon, but REA lines in the Hereford vicinity lost about 1200 poles. There was a heavy loss of poles to REA lines in the Tulsa vicinity.

Truitt Hull, local manager of the Service Company, expressed the greatest appreciation for the work done by the Canyon Fire Department and the City Police in handling traffic during the snarl of wires.

"No one was injured during the time that wires were down, which was a great wonder," stated Mr. Hull. The snow was wet and heavy, and gathered on the wires as it fell. While not all of Canyon was without power during the day, as was the case in 1940 when the ice storm did so much damage.

The snow was so wet that it stuck to the ground as it landed, with very little drifting. The moisture will be of great benefit to the wheat fields over the area.

Soldiers Express Appreciation to Local Red Cross

Mrs. Bessie Melton, executive secretary of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, recently received some letters of appreciation from soldiers who received Christmas gifts from this chapter.

One letter from a Private Hinton is exceedingly brief and to the point. The soldier merely says "thanks" in a way that shows his appreciation.

One letter from a Private Perry is considerably longer. It gives a picture of a lonely boy on a ship heading for strange new lands who gets a touch of home through a Red Cross package. Private Perry even promised to make an attempt to visit Canyon when he gets back to the States.

When Mrs. Melton brought the two letters from a number received to The News office she was moving from the southwest corner of the ground floor of the court house to a new office in the southeast corner.

'Little Oscars' Given Outstanding Players

William A. Moore, assistant professor of the speech department at West Texas State, started a move last week toward the giving of little "Oscars" to the best actors and actresses in the Buffalo Masquers drama club. No awards were given this year but the members of the club did select the best actor, the best actress and also an all star cast from both the boys and girls in the club.

Fred Salmans took best actor and Ruth Elaine Harmon was selected as the best actress.

A special commendation went to Eugene Hill for his work of operating the lights.

"The Long Goodbye" was selected as the best technical production.

The girl's all star cast was Zelda Mae Walker for her role in "Undercurrent," Patty Rutherford for her part in "John Doe," Lynn Danner for her part in "Where the Cross is Made," and the fourth place was a tie between Ruth Hilbert for her part in "Long Goodbye," and Rae June Jones for her part in "Angelica."

The boy's all star cast was Dick Houston in "Long Goodbye," Cal Foster, Lynn Teeter, and Jack Teague in "John Doe."

It was also announced that Ruth Elaine Harmon had a job teaching speech in Carlsbad, New Mexico. Ruth is a mid-term graduate of West Texas State and many of her friends will be wishing her lots of success on the job in Carlsbad.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Keller announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joyce, to Daryl Quimby, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Quimby of San Diego, California.

A Few Observations As The Days Roll By . . .

Congress can whip President Eisenhower, if it wants to, under an old law which forbids any owner of stock in any corporation from serving the government.

It is to be regretted that Eisenhower and the nation will be denied the services of really great men—men who have made a success for themselves, and would be capable of serving the nation faithfully and well.

The new President was caught off base by selecting highly qualified men when there were so many others who are running around looking for jobs. Eisenhower was trying to surround himself with high calibre men and women who were accustomed to handling big affairs.

So far as Wilson is concerned, no one raised a point against his capacity for big things, but the law prohibits a stockholder in any big corporation which does business with the government from serving.

It all depends on the man as to the value of the old law. If he should have been a rascal in the past, it is pretty certain that he would be a rascal in the future; but if his dealings have been strictly on the up and up in the past, he would not sacrifice these high principles of any gain that his company might make.

But the law is law.

A Canyon reader called The News the other night giving her appreciation of our stand against liquor advertising. She related that she has written to a popular magazine which carried a great volume of liquor ads, protesting that it was giving only one side of the question.

After a long delay, she finally received a letter from the publisher saying that it was none of her business what they advertised in their magazine.

The only recourse is for readers of such wet magazines is to cancel their subscriptions and allow these mags to go to blazes—where they will eventually go anyway.

This is your last chance to arm yourself with a poll tax receipt and get ready for the elections of 1953.

The legislature has several important constitutional amendments which will be submitted to the voters this year. It would be a shame if these amendments were approved by a minority of the voters. Yet, that is just what happened this fall when a majority of those who went to the polls in November failed to vote on constitutional amendments printed on the ballots.

The voters are not taking these amendments very seriously.

Be a good citizen and pay your $1.75 into the school fund, regardless of your intention of voting in any election this year.

No, we have no comments this week on the retirement of Harry, Bess and Margaret. But you can bet your bottom dollar that Harry will be in some kind of political battle before many months. The man simply thrives on politics. He loves a fight.

It is sure hard to be chained to this old typewriter while the white flakes are falling. Just cannot resist the temptation to glance up occasionally and drink in the beauty of the sight this Thursday noon.

The weatherman says that it will be over in a few more hours—we hope he is wrong.

No, we did not go to Washington for the big show. Had no business there, in the first place; and no time or decided inclination in the second place; besides that it takes a lot of cash to rush around the world these days.

A good reader brought an old copy of the Amarillo Daily News in the other day when the Newsman was running for the legislature. The paper contained a political advertisement which said that Warwick saved the state $2,000,000. Wonder who got that money? We didn't.

It is reported that 17 million persons have married in the past 10 years; that 30 million babies have been born; that 13½ million old customers have died. No wonder that progressive merchants advertise regularly. Their customers pass out of the picture, and must be replaced.

How do you know what is right, unless you know what is wrong?

The height of absurdity: Senator Wayne Morse refused to allow confirmation of cabinet members on Tuesday so that President Eisenhower could start his term with a full cabinet. Morse was within his rights to object to the immediate approval, under senate rules; but deep down in his heart he is peeved at the Republicans because he quit the party at a time when he thought Governor Stevenson would defeat President Eisenhower.

What foolishness we tolerate.

These observations will be shorter than usual this week. We have a number of short paragraphs which will fill the editorial page.

Petty political jobs appeal to some people enormously, and that is a good thing for the country.

Few people conduct their social affairs without regard to money, unfortunately.

BOYCE HOUSE

Everyone knows of Grauman's Theater in Hollywood with the concrete walk holding the footprints of the stars: Janet Gaynor, Shirley Temple, Mickey Rooney, and many more. Then there is an inscription, "Here's looking at you" and a drawing of the big eyes of Eddie Cantor. "May this cement our friendship." Joan Crawford reads another inscription.

Then there are the skate-prints of Sonja Henie; the mouth-print of Joe E. Brown; a drawing, in the concrete, of Harold Lloyd's spectacles and the print of Al Jolson's knees.

Almost as interesting was the lobby of the Egyptian Theater (this was 1940) with a dugout used in "Hurricane," the Gutenberg press used in "Hunchback of Notre Dame," a chariot from "Ben Hur" and a pump from "Wuthering Heights."

One day, during my stay in Movieland, a man who once drew $15,000 a week as a director was arrested for drunkenness—not his first such arrest. There is more poignancy in the true stories of Hollywood than in the make-believe ones they put on the screen.

One studio was making a picture in which there were five pups. As the filming of the sequences showing the dogs required 30 days, they had to use three different sets as the original puppies and then the next ones grew too big.

Hollywood spoke a lingo of its own, such as "A" picture, one which had cost a great deal; "B" picture, not an expensive one; "quickie," a picture made in a hurry; "sleeper," one which didn't cost much and of which little was expected but which turned out to be a hit. If an amount that was considered small was mentioned, somebody would comment, "That's just buttons." If a big amount was mentioned, it drew the comment, "That's not hay."

The most famous editor of a woman's magazine was a man—Edward Bok. In his autobiography, Bok pointed out that most women's magazines have a man as the editor, though a woman may be the nominal editor. Why? It has never been explained, he wrote, any more than why the majority of women's fashion designers are men or "why music, with its larger appeal to women, has been and is still composed, largely, by men, and why its greatest instrumental performers are likewise men; and why the church, with its larger membership of women, still has, as it always has had, men for its greatest preachers."

Youth, what man's age is like to be, doth show;

We may our ends by our beginnings know. —Denham.

MEDICAL BILL

Sickness cost citizens of the United States $14,200,000,000 in 1951, about 13 per cent of which was covered by insurance, according to the Social Security Administration. The $14,200,000,000 covered both spending for medical care and loss of income due to illness.

Benson plans to expedite pact on world's wheat.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Moves to extend social-security benefits to more than a million aged persons now barred because they earn wages of more than $75 a month, have been started by Rep. Ostertag (R-NY) and Rep. Forand (D-RI). Rep. Williams (D-Miss.) also agrees that the law should be changed so that persons over 65 may be allowed to earn money without having to give up their social-security income.

DESERTIONS

While the Army has had about 46,000 desertions from its ranks by enlisted men since the start of the Korean war, all except 11,000 have returned to duty or have been picked up. The Air Force reported 851 deserters unreturned as of October 31; the Navy, 1,242, as of the end of December, and the Marine Corps, 697, for the same date.

DEFERMENTS TIGHTENED

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, has warned that growing draft calls and legal limits on the ages of eligibles were producing "a physical—perhaps I should say a mathematical—impossibility to stay within the law without substantial tightening of deferments. Students will not be the only men affected by this tightening, but we must certainly look toward the colleges with something more than an appraising eye," the General declared.

JOB ROLLS OFF

The number of Federal jobholders showed a drop of 5,120 in October from the figures of September, according to a Senate-House committee report. There were 2,566,398 on the Federal pay roll in October.

Howard B. Myers, director of Research Committee for Economic Development: "I do not think that serious inflation is likely in the months ahead."

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS OR WE ALL WORE BIBS

... and ate the most delicious Italian spaghetti with all the trimmings at Laurel and Holmes Ambrose's on Friday, January 23. Believe you me that Holmes missed his calling, he would make the best chef ever in Florence.

The same old group was there. Jean and Borden Price; incidentally, at this writing it is all over for Jean and she has once again presented Borden with another baby girl... congratulations! On with who was at this very unique party—Christine and Gene McGlasson, Virginia and Raymond Raillard, Edna and Lewis Stoezeling, Pat and M. D. Shepherd, Doris and Dudley Moore, Thelma and H. R. Fulton, and of course our hosts.

My, did we ever have fun (we always do, tho', so it wasn't unusual). Unusual in the fact that Laurel did everything backwards from our previous meetings. Table 4 was served first instead of the usual table 1 (such disgusting expressions on the four faces at table 1). I was complaining of drawing for number 4 but was so glad when I learned what was about to happen.

It was all so clever... we lined up at the serving table and while Holmes filled our plates with that spaghetti, H. R. tied these darling white crepe paper bibs around each neck... we needed them too, with all the drippings that went on. I do declare I never dreamed we had such hearty appetites in this club! Do you know that some of those men had as much as two and three plate fulls of the stuff, won't mention any names for fear of embarrassment!

After so many hours the meal was completed and we got around to bridge. Goodness, had forgotten to mention that this is the DIN-BRIDGE CLUB, or had you already guessed. Such playing and such hands! M. D. made a grand slam; no, he didn't bid it... such luck! Table 4 had oodles of fun in a truth session (with the door closed too... you have never seen such eyes drooping at the other three tables... don't forget, you other three who were at this confession table, mum's the word!).

Well, anyway, this could go on and on with everything said and done on that evening, and it would be interesting too, but space must be saved for other articles, so we'll see you next month at the McGlassons.

Respectfully submitted, D. M.

P. S. Laurel decided that man should be given something once in awhile (that's a joke, as if they don't always) so high and low prizes were appropriate for Borden and Dudley, respectively. 'Course it was Jean's and Doris' score that won for them... we're both bragging.

P. P. S. So many undesirable reports on last month's reporter—in case you've forgotten—ole Shep—I decided to try my hand again. Hope there will be no hard feelings, M. D.?

UNSPENT BILLIONS

Government agencies will have nearly $100,000,000,000 in unspent balances from old appropriations next July 1, according to Senator Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the Nonessential Federal expenditures. Most of the money will be obligated in one fashion or another, however, declared the Senator, who urges a careful review of the balances by Congress every time a new appropriation for an agency comes up.

Sue Hite Club Elects Officers

The Sue Hite Club met Monday, January 26, in the Club Room of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum for its regular meeting. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. W. E. Miller and Mrs. Jack Hughes.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. W. F. Haggard, president. Mrs. W. A. Moore, program chairman introduced Mrs. A. L. Walsh who gave an interesting report on Margaret Clapp.

Members present included Mesdames Frank Barnhill, John E. Bowden, Hatcher Brown, R. C. Busted, E. R. Cleavinger, Levi Cole, Earl L. Craig, T. V. Crounse, D. M. Foster, W. F. Haggard, Crews Henry, Jack T. Hughes, R. P. Jarrett, Mitchell Jones, John Jennings, M. B. Measamer, Boone McClure, Ralph McCormick, Gene McGlasson, Jr., W. A. Miller, W. E. Miller, W. A. Moore, R. W. Raillard, Rex Reeves, Burney Slack, Crannell Tolliver, A. L. Walsh, and R. D. Wheelock.

The club also announced the new officers for the coming year. They are: Mrs. Rex Reeves, president; Mrs. Hatcher Brown, vice-president; Mrs. R. E. McCormick, secretary; Mrs. John Jennings, treasurer; Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. C. Busted, parliamentarian; Mrs. Gene McGlasson, reporter; Mrs. M. B. Measamer and Mrs. Levi Cole, library board; Mrs. Crannell Tolliver, Mrs. Burney Slack, and Mrs. Levi Cole, The Ola Davis Hill Committee.

Annual game night of the club will be held on March 17. The proceeds from this night of games will be divided between the Randall County Library and the Girl Scouts.

BUSINESS

American business is expected to plow back more of its earnings than ever before into expansion and improvement during the first quarter of 1953. U. S. business is expected to invest around $6,500,000,000 in new plants and equipment during the first three months of this year. Manufacturers are expected to have laid out $12,500,000,000 for new plants and equipment by the end of this year.

TRAFFIC DEATH TOLL

Traffic deaths in 1952 are expected to total at least 38,000—one of the heaviest tolls in the nation's history—according to the National Safety Council. The three worst years in the number of lives lost in motor vehicle accidents, were 1941, with 39,969; 1937, with 39,643; and 1936, with 38,089.

19-YEAR-OLDS

Selective Service headquarters have notified State Selective Service directors throughout the country that they are free to draft any 19-year-olds needed to fill quotas where their polls of men 20 and older had been exhausted. A directive last February required the taking of older eligibles before any 19-year-olds were drafted.

New Pontiac Car Presented to Canyon Schools

STEVENSON PONTIAC GMC TRUCKS

FRED STRAUGHN AND E. B. HOUSTON OF OKLAHOMA CITY; SUPT. JOE GIBSON AND T. S. STEVENSON, JR.

A new 1953 car was presented to the Canyon Public Schools by T. S. Stevenson, Jr., agent for Pontiac cars in Canyon. The presentation was made by Pontiac representatives Fred Straughn and E. B. Houston, both of Oklahoma City. Mr. Stevenson has been furnishing cars to the schools for instruction since 1949, with a new model being presented annually. Sidney Burgess is instructor in Safety Driving. It is estimated that accidents have been cut by 50% since the course in driving has been started. The new car was received by Supt. Joe A. Gibson. The course has the approval of AAA of this section.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

Sherman Adams, No. 1 staff man for Ike, and Herbert Brownell, new Attorney General, are getting blame on the inside for the snafu that developed over stock holdings of Charles E. Wilson. Point is made that careful staff work would have uncovered this problem and dealt with it before a political issue was born.

Lack of political experience in the big time is turning out to be the great weakness of the Eisenhower team that has taken over the White House.

A slip in staff work among the White House group produced an embarrassing situation for Val Peterson, former Nebraska Governor who had been offered the job of Ambassador to India. After Peterson had accepted, Nebraska's two Senators informed the White House that he was persona non grata to them. Ike hadn't been told that Senators can, for all practical purposes, veto an appointment requiring Senate confirmation and involving a person from their State.

Robert Taft, Senate Majority Leader, is not unhappy over the fact that President Eisenhower is getting early lessons in the intricacies of official life. It may make Taft's life as Majority Leader somewhat easier.

It was news to Ike when he discovered that conservative Democratic Senators are not watching out for his political health and happiness in the new job he occupies. The President now realizes that no politician is pleased to have his party out of power at the White House and that Democratic politicians will do what they can to regain power.

John Foster Dulles, new Secretary of State, will not change his basic views on American foreign policy to suit George Kennan, career diplomat, who has guided American policy regarding Russia in years past and who now is quite critical of the Dulles viewpoint, which he thinks is dangerous.

A plan is stirring among Republican leaders in Congress to earmark as much as 50 per cent of military aid abroad directly to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for spending on a European Army and not 18 individual armies. Another idea is to fix a time limit for nations to fulfill NATO obligations if they want more U. S. aid.

President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles intend to work out world-aid issues—including dollar-aid totals—with Senator Taft before submitting any plan to Congress. Senator Taft is expected to be of great help in meeting objections in Congress to further large-scale aid.

Herbert Brownell has assured committees of Congress that the Justice Department will re-examine and re-evaluate antitrust cases started by past Democratic Administrations.

George Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, is to run into a strong urge in Congress to start tax reduction in anticipation of a budget balance, rather than wait for a balanced budget before cutting taxes. Tax policy, since 1936, has been shaped by Congress instead of the executive branch.

Word is being passed that very few votes in Congress could be mustered to back any White House request to extend the excess-profits tax beyond June 30, when it is due to expire.

The Rosenbergs, convicted spies, have had assurances all along that their lives would be spared if only they would tell what they know about Russian spying in this country. Both have persistently refused to talk.

Japan is pressing this country for the right to build a big Air Force with 2,000 planes. U. S. Air Force is thinking of a 500-plane Japanese force, but the U. S. Army prefers no more than a tactical Japanese force to work with the Japanese Army.

Anthony Eden, Britain's Foreign Secretary, rather than R. A. Butler, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is in line to succeed Winston Churchill as Prime Minister when Churchill steps down after coronation of Queen Elizabeth. Churchill, at 78, is preparing to give way to a younger man.

NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM
The National Defense Program has reached its midway point, according to the past Mobilization Director Fowler who declared that the $129,000,000,000 already spent should be supplemented by new laws and funds and that this could be done "without strain" on the nation's economy.

Centering the serving table was an arrangement of white and pink carnations and pink tapers in crystal candelabra.

Approximately 80 guests called or sent gifts.

BROWNIES PREPARE FOR PROMOTION TO GIRL SCOUTS

The Brownies of Troop 12 held their regular meeting last week. After the president called the meeting to order, the treasurer gave a report on the financial standing of the troop.

Mrs. Jerry Newman handed out papers on what the girls should be able to do when they fly up to the Girl Scouts in April. The other Brownie mother, Mrs. Barnard, was sick and could not attend the meeting. The Brownies hoped that Mrs. Barnard would be able to meet with them this week.

During the meeting the Brownies sewed and embroidered on their gifts to the Brownie House. After their meeting was ended, the girls visited the jail and fire house.

Local Dairy Herds Top in Production

Several local dairy herds rank at the top of the Improvement Association in the production of milk and butter fat again this month.

Hinders Brothers and Neil Downing have herds listed in the three high herds in milk and butterfat. In the ten high cows in butterfat these two herds show up again and in this class is also the herd of V. K. McCaskill.

Competition

gives you the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices

Competition begins with the search for oil.

Improved drilling and producing methods increase supplies of oil at reasonable prices.

Pipe line companies seek to improve their service and to reduce the transportation cost of oil and finished products. Their success is a major factor in keeping prices of petroleum products low.

The U. S. oil business is one of the most highly competitive industries in this country and, for that matter, in the world. Every time you buy a gallon of gasoline or a quart of motor oil, there are at least 100 companies that would like you to buy from them.

Your purchase stimulates competition far beyond the service station driveway where you make it. It stirs scientists to find more oil for your use. It urges production men to produce oil more efficiently and economically and with less waste. It extends through low-cost transportation pipe lines to refineries that seek better ways to make more and better petroleum products to compete for your business.

Is this competition a good thing?

It certainly is. It's a good thing for you because you get the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices. It's a good thing for the country because it stimulates the continuous development and conservation of a vital natural resource. And it's a good thing for the oil business: competition keeps the industry strong, vigorous, progressive.

Water Meeting Slated Thursday

Prospective irrigation well owners in the 13 counties of the High Plains Water Conservation District have the first opportunity tomorrow to get forms and expert information on the new well drilling permits requirement, effective February 1. An important all day meeting has been called for that day by the board president, Tom McFarland, of Lubbock. Morning session will convene at 9:30 o'clock in Hotel Lubbock, where the evening and noon luncheon will also be held.

The men most concerned, prospective well owners, will be joined by county committeemen, county agents, well drillers, pump company representatives, and municipal engineers. During the day all the facts are promised on the distribution and approval of application forms for new wells.

A three-man slate of water resource experts will be on hand to discuss current water conservation problems and practices in Texas and other states. First on the program will be George D. Clyde, soil conservationist of Logan, Utah. He will be followed by A. P. Rollins, a member of Texas Board of Water Engineers, and he in turn by Dr. Irving P. Krick, expert meteorologist from Denver, Colorado.

A fact-finding panel discussion is scheduled for the afternoon session. Ample time is planned to answer questions in connection with the filling out and handling of applications for water well drilling permits in the district. These permits require approval of three of five county committeemen in each of the counties in the High Plains District.

In announcing the meeting McFarland stressed the importance of attendance by all interested persons. Reservations are being received in room 1212, National Bank Building, Lubbock.

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS
of the 18th Congressional District

The 83rd Congress Is Beginning To Move

You will recall that in an earlier letter I told you about the state-mate in Congress between the convening of the Congress on January 3rd and the inauguration of the new President on January 20th. The inauguration is now over and Congress is completing its organizational problems. Most of the committees have met and organized for the tremendous amount of work that will be necessary in the coming two years.

The committee to which I have been assigned, Interior and Insular Affairs, had its first meeting on January 22nd, and proceeded in due order to promptly organize. This committee is actually a combination of six committees which were placed under one head and named the Public Lands Committee.

Subsequently the name was changed to the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee to conform with the name of the same committee in the Senate.

The six committees combined in this one committee are Irrigation and Reclamation, Insular Affairs, Mines and Mining, Territories, Public Lands, and Indian Affairs. The Committee deals with the internal resources of the United States and its territories and insular possessions. It is organized in five sub-committees, Public Lands, Territories and Insular Possessions, Irrigation and Reclamation, Mines and Mining, and Indian Affairs. It is the committee from which the Department of Interior obtains its legislative authority.

Large Expenditures

The Department of Interior employs approximately 60,000 people and is responsible for expenditures in the neighborhood of 600 million dollars a year. It has under its jurisdiction the public lands of the United States, which consist of approximately 820 million acres. This does not include the vast reaches of Alaska and the other territories. In Alaska alone the Government owns about ninety per cent of the territory. The management of these public lands creates many and varied problems.

The leasing of oil and minerals on public lands brings into the U. S. Treasury approximately 200 million dollars per year. There are 179 national parks and monuments visited annually by more than 40 million people. These include the Statue of Liberty, the Petrified Forest, a volcano in Hawaii, the Gettysburg Battlefield, and other points of interest.

The public lands owned by the Government consist of everything from bald mountain peaks to fertile valley land. Much land was acquired by the Government in recent years as submarginal land. The price paid for this land was low because the land was just not worth anything. Some government departments began to employ methods to restore the fertility of this land so that its production would not be lost. A vast amount of it has been restored and is now producing.

Oil Producing

At the time the Government acquired these lands it also acquired most of the mineral estate thereunder. Since it has come into the Government's hands, a great deal of it has been proven as oil producing properties. In view of these discoveries there has been much agitation in the past few years for a return of these lands to the persons from whom they were originally purchased or to private ownership regardless of prior interests. This will be a difficult problem to be settled in this and perhaps the next Congress.

Many people are concerned about the vast land holdings of the Federal Government and want to see something done to restore some of these lands to private ownership and put them on the tax rolls. Of course there is much land owned by the Government that is wholly unfit for use by individuals and that would have little or no value for tax purposes, such as arid and semi-arid areas, mountainous terrain and swamp lands, among others.

Much research has been done on the arid and semi-arid areas, and these lands will no doubt turn up as big producers in the not too distant future. In this connection it is well to note that irrigation projects can well be the salvation of this country insofar as agricultural production is concerned. Also the proper use of surface water could help solve this problem. A recent survey indicates that there are about 319 million acre-feet of stream run-off annually and only about one-fifth of the run-off, or 78 million acre-feet, has been utilized.

Census Showing

The 1950 Census shows the population of the 18th Congressional District as 289,449. Of this number 146,636 are males and 142,813 are females. There are 86,545 households, 14,691 farms, and a labor force of 114,582. 79.1 per cent of the farms have electricity and 11,929 of them have tractors. The value of the land and buildings is fixed at $753,945,000. The farms produced and sold products in the amount of $242,112,000. This looks like a pretty good report for the Panhandle and a forerunner of greater things to come.

Dr. H. A. Brown Is Much Improved

Dr. H. A. Brown has been in the hospital during the last ten days and is now recuperating from double labor pneumonia. He will be back in his office as soon as possible. Mrs. Brown has also had the flu.

THE UNIVERSE

Measurements and distances in the universe are being revised on the basis of data disclosed by the 200-inch Palomar telescope that can see two thousand million light years into space.

Dental Health Day In Texas Scheduled For February 2nd

More than half of the children in this country have as many as six cavities in their teeth before they begin school.

That's the estimate of Texas dental authorities and state health officials as they announced February 2 as the date for the fifth annual observance of Children's Dental Health Day.

The day has been set aside in an attempt to call public attention to these startling facts:

Ninety-eight per cent of all 15-year old boys have one or more teeth missing, decayed or filled.

Over 284 million cavities are afflicting the teeth of American children, with teeth decaying six times faster than they are being filled.

One-half of the children between the ages of three and nine have never in their lives had dental treatment.

"One of the biggest hurdles to be overcome," State Health Officer George W. Cox says, "is the seemingly widespread attitude that baby teeth are insignificant."

He believes the attitude stems from the fact that baby teeth are only temporary, with most people thinking there is no need for concern until the child gets his permanent set.

But dental scientists say that the care given baby teeth has a direct and vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth. Dr. Cox points out:

The Texas State Department of Health and the State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance of the day.

They are appealing to all parents to pay attention to the plight of youngsters' teeth. And they make this prediction:

"The children will be grateful . . . especially when they are no longer children."

TRIPLER SONS LUCKY

Cohoes, N. Y. — Peter Woodin had several things to brag about recently. First, his wife presented him with triplet sons on Christmas Eve. When Woodin's employer, Earl Leiden, heard about the babies, he said he would give him a salary raise. The Woodin's already had three children — two girls, 5 and 3 years old, and a boy, 1 year old.

DISABLED WORKERS

The Federal Security Agency states that early reports indicate this year's state-Federal program for putting disabled men and women into jobs would fall considerably short of the 63,632 rehabilitations reported for 1951-52. Rehabilitations for the first quarter of the 1952-53 fiscal year fell 7.4 per cent below the total or the same quarter a year ago.

JOBLESS AID

The amount of money available for jobless benefits to workers covered by state unemployment insurance laws has reached a record $8,400,000,000, according to the Labor Department. The fund has grown by $500,000,000 this year, mainly because of high employment and an increase in the number of workers covered by state laws.

BIG HELICOPTERS

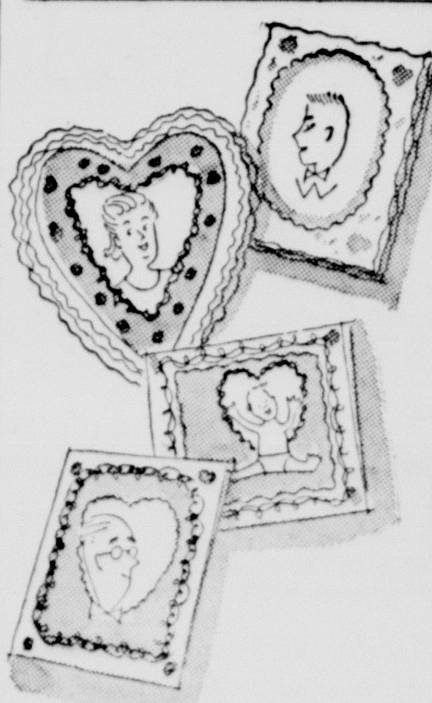

The Army has announced that it plans to buy more of the large and powerful type of helicopters and fewer of the light ones. Plans call for ten per cent of the Army's helicopters to be of the heavy-lift, 20,000-pound variety, which would be used to move trucks past roadblocks or destroyed bridges, and on other tactical and logistical missions.

CLASSROOM DEFICIT

There is a current deficit of more than 325,000 school rooms in this country, according to a survey by the Office of Education. The survey also estimates a long-range shortage of another 275,000 rooms by 1960, bring the total deficit up to 600,000 by that time.

Governor Shivers Discusses School System of Texas

(NOTE: The Governor of Texas says our school teachers must have a cost-of-living increase in pay. The problem is finding the money. His plan, as presented to the Legislature recently, will be outlined in a series of articles of which this is the first).

By ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

The public school system is a subject close to the hearts of all of us.

We want to see our schools rank among the best in the nation. To have good schools, we must have good teachers.

And to keep good teachers we must pay them decent salaries.

The lot of Texas teachers has improved considerably since 1949, when the Legislature installed a new system popularly known as the "Gilmer-Aikin program." But inflation has wiped out some of their financial gains.

Texas teachers must have cost-of-living salary raises. There is hardly anyone who disagrees. I have listed this as one of the necessities faced by the 53rd Legislature now in session at Austin.

As Governor, I have to ask a couple of questions — and you, as citizens and taxpayers, need to do the same:

How much?
Who pays it?

There isn't enough state money in sight for next year to cover salary increases for our 55,000 teachers. Thus we will either have to raise more money, or redistribute what we have or do both.

Plan

The plan I suggested for the Legislature's consideration had something of both factors in it. It would mean, in effect, that (1) some state funds now going to make rich school districts richer would be spread among the less fortunate schools of the state, and (2) the local districts would be asked to pay the same proportion of the total Gilmer-Aikin program expense as they did when the program was started in 1949.

Before I explain this plan in more detail, a couple of terms need to be defined.

The "available school fund" consists of money dedicated by the constitution and statutes to the public schools and distributed by the State on the basis of scholastic population. This is the familiar "per capita apportionment." At present this payment is $68 a year per student.

The "minimum foundation fund" was set up by the Gilmer-Aikin program in 1949 to equalize educational opportunities throughout the State. This Gilmer-Aikin plan, a great milestone of progress, provides money for school districts on a basis of need. The more prosperous districts get no Gilmer-Aikin assistance at all. Poor districts receive sufficient amounts from this fund to maintain a "minimum standard" program.

Two Funds

These two funds represent entirely different kinds of aid. The State's school finance pants have two pockets.

What can we do now to raise the teachers and yet avoid an increase in State taxes?

Obviously, it would help if some of the excess payments now going to certain districts by "per capita" allocation could be given instead to districts that really need the money. Then we would not be continuing to enrich a few districts out of one State pocket while we spend millions of dollars from another pocket to keep needy schools up to decent standards. Some of the money from the luxury pocket belongs in the necessity pocket.

The per capita payment automatically would be lowered from $68 to about $58 per student if we would go back to a strict interpretation of the State Constitution. Actually, about $15 million is going into the "available school fund" now from taxes not so earmarked by the Constitution. That is a generous situation except, as I indicated before, the extra money goes into the wrong pocket. I think this $15 million ought to be reallocated to the Gilmer-Aikin pocket.

What Else?

What else can we do? We can restore the former one-to-three balance between local and state support of the Gilmer-Aikin program. That one-to-three ratio was considered fair in 1949 when the program went into operation. At that time $45 million represented a fourth of the Gilmer-Aikin cost. But the school districts are still paying the same $45 million annually — while the cost of the program has risen steadily. The State has been making up the difference. I think the old ratio of one local dollar to every three State dollars ought to be reinstated.

In this connection, let me quote from the annual report of the State Board of Education:

"It is highly important that an appropriate balance be maintained between local and State support of the public school system. The maintenance of a proper balance between State and local financing of the public school program will help insure the continuation of local control of public schools."

The Board evidently believes that local control cannot be maintained unless proper local support is maintained. We face the same problem at the State level when we accept too much "easy" money from Washington. We find that Washington wants to tell us how to spend the money.

I don't want to see any weakening of local control of our public schools. The school is too close to the home to be controlled by anyone besides the homefolks.

(Next week Governor Shivers will describe in more detail some of the problems that must be overcome to put Texas public school financing on a sound basis.)

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

(By Lawrence Hunnicutt)

Some fishermen are already getting ready for the season to begin. Fish bait is sort of like women's clothing, every year men are using new lines and bait upon them. Last week some of the new and revolutionary baits was in the hands of W. J. Wooten, Jr. It was a real minnow, plastic coated and guaranteed for one season. The fish certainly better watch what they eat this year, they're liable to get hooked.

One of the suggestions taken lightly last week was that of writing up the most repulsive character in town. One of the reasons it was overlooked so hurriedly was that it might turn out like Fibber McGee's book. If you didn't hear Fibber you don't know that the scandal mongering book Fibber planned had only one possible character and that was Fibber.

An improvement in parking about the square was made last week when workers managed to get in some of the yellow metal parking markers. These markers give a more distinct parking area and they appear to be sturdy enough to last much longer than the ordinary yellow stripe. Right after the workers got some of the markers installed, the weather threw us a curve and sent some well blown snow to hide the new markers. This was fine, we needed the snow but the wind could have just as well stayed wherever it came from. It was merely an added attraction that we didn't need.

The snow did sort of sneak up on the blind side of the weatherman. Wednesday night "no moisture" was predicted and even at 7:30 o'clock Thursday when it was beginning to sleet and rain a little, we were promised only a trace of moisture. It was a pretty good trace and if the wind had not come along it would have done much more good. Such freakish tricks on the part of the weather must take all the joy out of being associated with the weather bureau.

There was some blinking of the lights last week due to the electricity in the winds that blew. Lights went on and off all day Thursday and the people who had electrically controlled furnaces and appliances complained that they could not keep their homes warm. The only trouble around the square was a slight annoyance as the lights went off for a few minutes and then flicked back on again. The Public Service Company had men out doing everything possible to keep the current flowing.

This week's outstanding citizen is Clark Jarnagin, former president of the Chamber of Commerce. Upon arriving here in 1947 as assistant football coach for the Buffaloes of West Texas State College, Jarnagin realized that he had found the town he desired to adopt as his home. During his three years with West Texas State he worked as assistant coach one year and as college bookstore manager two years. After breaking diplomatic relations with the college, Jarnagin went into the dairy business. At present he is distributing dairy products.

Clark Jarnagin was graduated from Hardin-Simmons University in the spring of '37. He is married and has four children, three girls and one boy.

Now we come to that portion of the column that many people believe has something in common with melting snow, sort of drippy. Yep, you've already guessed it, it's Chirps of Wisdom.

Hiway Map of Texas Shows Focal Points

Texas chalked up another "first" today when the 1953 Texas Official Highway Map was released, D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced.

The new map, featuring "A Look at Texas" theme, is a 100 per cent Texas product. Wood pulp for the paper was grown in East Texas. The paper was made near Houston and the plates and printing were done in Austin.

An encyclopedia of Texas information in itself, the map side provides current and accurate highway information, while the back side has pictures and information on points of interest.

Locations of roadside parks, national and state parks, national forests, mountainous areas, lakes and streams, along with other information that will add to the safety, comfort, and pleasure of the traveling public are shown. There are 1,304 cities and towns listed with a cross section of altitudes given. Thirteen enlarged city insets are provided for the convenience of motorists traveling through these major metropolitan areas. Distances are indicated between all points and a special mileage index chart reflects the accumulated official mileage between principal points.

For "A Look at Texas," the back side offers in color some of the outstanding vacation spots. Fishing, horseback riding, picnicking, sailing, and cattle branding scenes suggest places to "go."

Greer announced that the new map is available to the general public for the asking. For the convenience of the public, a special addressed card is available in the County Tax Collector's office upon the registration of your automobile. These map cards will expedite the handling and mailing of the maps, Greer added. The maps are also available free of charge at any Texas Highway Department District office, Travel Information Bureau, or by writing direct to the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas, Greer concluded.

Buffalo Masquers Give One-Act Play

A one-act play that all humanity should see and take more seriously was presented in the Branding Iron Theatre Tuesday night, Jan. 21. The play, "John Doe," is one that depicts the many tragic faults and errors of the human race.

The play was presented by the Buffalo Masquers, WT dramatic club associated with the speech department. Those who had parts in the play were Fred Salmans, Patty Rutherford, Cal Foster, Jack Teague, Dick Houston, Bobbie Vandergriff, and Lynn Teeter. The play was directed by Ruth Harmon.

The plot of the play is built around John Doe, as played by Lynn Teeter, as he tries to get into heaven but finds his path is blocked by the many terrible acts he did on earth. A trial is held to see whether or not John Doe, the personification of all humanity, is to be allowed entrance into heaven.

During the trial of John Doe there is much food for thought. A great many of the human errors down through history of mankind are brought to light. The play could have been made, "Humanity on Trial."

CHS Band Queen Nominees Chosen

Frances Cunningham, June Davis, and Dovie Keene are nominees for the 1953 Canyon High School Band Queen. They were elected by members of the band Wednesday, Jan. 21, in the band house. This election was to pick three girls out of the band to run for queen.

The queen will be voted on later, and crowned at the band concert February 12, in the high school auditorium. She will be crowned by the president of the band, Bob Huddleston.

Frances is a senior and plays a base clarinet in concert and a B flat clarinet in marching season. June is a sophomore and plays a saxophone. Dovie plays a cornet and is a sophomore.

Don't Put It Off!

At last it is over. The long grinding and racking of the brains has come to an abrupt halt. This does not mean, however, that there won't be other times, when once again the challenge will confront us.

Were you one of those who waited until the last minute, and then dived headlong into your studies and found yourself up to your neck in back assignments? Did you burn the midnight oil last week, making a wild and desperate effort to do all those little things that were put off for so long?

This is a fast moving world we live in today. No one can loiter around and even hope to keep up with his fellow men. In this ever-progressing day and time, one must move ahead with the rest or fall so hopelessly far behind that he will be like a small toy left in some dark corner by a child, lost and forgotten.

This may seem to be taking it too seriously, but in this world of doubt and fear, these things deserve some thought and attention.

A person cannot wait until he is a feeble old person and then decide to try to develop his mind and broaden his knowledge. The time to start catching up is now. Don't you think it would have been better and much easier to have worked up the assignments as they were given? It does save time and energy in the long run, so why not start now? Resolve that this next semester will not see any of the last minute cramming and headaches that sometimes go with exams.

Salute to Teachers

I overheard two students discussing semester exams and teachers the other day. Of course we all talk about them, but this was an unusual conversation.

"It is the teacher's fault that I made low on that test." She piles so much "junk" on us all the time that I forget half of what she tells us to do." This was the complaint of the first voice. "Yeah, I know it. What do those teachers think we are anyway? They just try to see how much 'stuff' they can bury us in right at the semester." And this was the voice of the second.

Teachers do give a lot of assignments but is this not what school is for—to be instructed and to learn? The teacher dreads semester exams as well as the student. A teacher cannot be to blame for what the student does not do. Teachers need a lot of consideration. They work as hard in turn for you as you do for them. What about all those test papers they have to spend hours grading? They spend more time grading each paper for every student with from 20 to 25 in each class and six classes a day than you spend in a whole six weeks for the teacher.

At semester, things do seem a little rougher than they are at other times because of the open book tests and all of the note-books that are due for each previous six weeks. Think of the teacher! Just look how hard she works.

I say hats off to the teacher! She is the one that gets the blame for low grades. She is the one who has to grade papers. She is the one that school students talk about. She is the one who guides us through life. Let us give her some consideration for once.

CLASSIFIED AD
FOUND: One rubber heel from a girl's shoe, has seven tacks in it. It can be claimed in person, in The Eagle's Tale office. Finder will collect reward.

As Cal was making a wild dash to his first period class one morning last week, about a minute before time for the final bell, he stumbled over a still form lying at the bottom of the stairs. At first he thought a murder had been committed in dear old CHS, but on closer observation, he found that the "body" was just one sleepy student who had probably been "burning the midnight oil" the night before, reviewing for the semester exams.

He had gotten just that far and had fallen asleep right in the middle of the process of ascending the stairs. Cal carefully stepped over him, for fear of waking the poor creature, and then continued his belated climb up the stairs.

Upon arrival at his class, Cal found "snoozing" students trying to catch a few last minutes of sleep before time for class to begin.

Boy, that exam week was surely hard on a person's nerves.

Thursday afternoon as Cal was nonchalantly dashing from one class to another during a second fatal exam day that slayed kids by the dozens, all at once, everything went black. At first Cal thought that there had been an air raid and he hit the dust.

After lying there for some time and not hearing any notice of "all clear," he thought maybe he had gone blind. Asking a passer-by to guide him to his next class, he soon realized that everyone was blind. Had some gas from outer space drifted to earth to throw men into a panic?

Everything began to get cold and dreary and the echo of teacher's voices rang through the darkened halls. Feeling his way down three flights of stairs, Cal made for a door. Upon opening it, he was hit by a radiant white light that sent his brain reeling. This white thing he saw was cold and wet and regaining his senses, he discovered this white "stuff" to be snow.

Shivering in his boots, Cal viewed wires and highlines drooping to the ground with clinging ice, and cars and trees buried 40 feet deep in snow. This explained it: it had not been an air raid or space gas, nor was he blind. The electricity had merely gone off.

Snatching a flashlight, Cal made his way through the halls informing helpless victims of this disaster. Evidently the teachers sensed something was amiss, and to everybody's surprise, they let the tribe out of school one hour early.

Friona Outscores Eaglettes 52-50

With a two minute overtime, the Canyon Eaglettes' A team were outscored by the Friona team, 50-52 at Friona Tuesday, January 20. Friona was leading at the end of the first quarter, but the Eaglettes slipped ahead by the end of the second quarter and stayed ahead until the fourth quarter, which ended up in a tie.

The Eaglettes' B team was more successful, and outplayed Friona's B team 30-19. The guards as well as the forwards played a great part in these games. The Eaglettes' next game will be played in the Canyon gym Thursday night, Jan. 29, against Tulia.

Boxers Featured In Plainview Bouts

Fighting only once in the Plainview Golden Gloves Tournament, Elmer Clement, CHS sophomore, battled his way to the championship Friday, and this entitles him to represent this district in the regional tournament in Amarillo, Tuesday through Saturday.

Boxing has been an up-and-coming sport in Canyon High School the past two years, but only three boys have participated this season. Lonnie Davis, Elmer Clement and Calvin Costley have just finished boxing in the tournament at Plainview, January 22.

Lonnie is a junior this year and has fought two bouts in the 136 pound class. He won his first fight this year, January 19, scoring a decision, and lost his bout January 21, also by a decision.

Elmer, a sophomore in the middleweight boxing class this year, recently coming to CHS from Wheeler, drew a bye which entitled him to fight in the finals in the Plainview glove meet Thursday but due to road conditions, the event was postponed.

Calvin is a freshman in the 155 pound class. He has fought twice in the tournament, winning his first match with a TKO in 37 seconds, and losing in the semi-finals Wednesday night with a KO.

These boys have done remarkably well for their first bouts of the season through the excellent coaching of Don Boothe, and plan to continue at the Amarillo Golden Gloves, which opened January 27.

Band Members Play Selections for Exam

To encourage everyone in band to be an individual performer, and to increase individual practicing, were the main purposes for the solos which Mr. Demus, band director, assigned as semester tests in band. These solos gave Mr. Demus a better opportunity to evaluate the proficiency of each individual and thereby help him overcome his weaknesses.

It was also a chance to evaluate the needs of the band in general. The band director listened to the solos and, if the person was nervous, he would go in another room and listen. Music oftentimes sounds better at a distance.

Some band parts, such as the drums, basses, trombones, etc., are usually accompanist parts and in most cases rarely perform as solos. Playing a solo gives the performer a greater opportunity to play a variety of parts.

The parts played by the band members may be entered in the annual band contest to be held soon at West Texas State College. An exam of the type given by Demus is difficult and requires skill in handling.

Eagles Best Chiefs, Snap Losing Streak

Canyon's Eagles broke their losing streak January 20 in the West Texas State Field House by dropping the Friona Chiefs, 56-42, in a hard fought contest. Up to the half it was close with neither team taking a big margin. The half ended at 22-21.

The B team extended their winning streak of four games in a row by downing the Friona B to the tune of 53-29 in a wild scoring spree, with an average of four points per man. The benches were cleaned by both coaches.

High scorers with the aid of their teammates were Don Beck and Joe Dickerson for the B team with 10 points each. High scorers for the A team were Williams, 17, Hamblen, 10, Wimberly, 9, Dawdy, 7, Money, 6, Middleton, 3, and Miller and Ruthart, 2 each.

15 Band Members Purchase Jackets

Band jackets for the members of the Canyon High Band were ordered Monday, January 19, when those who desired to order jackets met in the cafeteria.

The jackets are a reversible wool and satin. The wool side is gray with purple trimming and a purple letter C with the word "BAND" on it. The satin side is white with purple sleeves and a purple collar.

The band buys the seniors jackets as a reward jacket. The seniors receiving jackets are Bob Huddleston, Ralph Green, Len McKey, Frances Cunningham, Grace Sheets and Buddy Thompson. Nine other members also ordered jackets.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

First semester's assistant editor, Barbara Winters, was recently elected to serve as editor-in-chief of The Eagle's Tale staff for the second semester. Assisting her will be the new associate editor, Edwina Caskey. Other positions on the new staff are Frances Pennington, news editor; Bob Hood, sports editor; Grace Sheets, columnist; Ralph Green and Sarah Colwell, assisting and feature editors. Barbara succeeds Ralph Green as editor-in-chief.

THANKS

No one can edit a newspaper alone, and without the help and cooperation of the members of an untiring staff, The Eagle's Tale would not have been as successful, the first semester. I would like to take this opportunity, not only to thank the staff, but my wonderful sponsor, the reporters and sponsors of the other departments who have worked so hard in helping to promote our school paper, the many high school readers who loyally supported our efforts, the administration for being so kind and understanding and worked thoughtfully with me, and Clyde W. Warwick and his staff at The News Office.

I did my best by selecting material which was interesting and properly written, and would serve our fine school best, during my term as editor of The Eagle's Tale. May you give your same kind consideration to my successor. To you all, THANKS. Ralph Green

Economical Value Of Typing Is High

"In learning any skill you can expect many mistakes before you accomplish a high mark," stated Mrs. Ray C. Schultz, typing instructor, in referring to the frequency of errors in her classes. She also stated, "I think the typing students this year are doing outstanding work."

Forty-nine members are now enrolled in the three typing classes; only juniors and seniors are eligible for the course. A few more students could be accommodated at the beginning of the year, and there are hopes that no class will contain a vacant typewriter this next semester.

Typing gives a high amount of value. A large per cent of the graduating class will need typing, and it should have been included in their high school curriculum. Students may find that typing is convenient for themes and reports in other classes or they may apply this typing skill to their personal needs. It might also be handy in typing letters for various clubs and organizations. Many college students have part time employment because they know how to manipulate the typewriter. Also, it may be useful to those seeking employment for typing letters of application.

Typing classes this year have learned the keyboard, parts of the machine, different styles of letters, how to make carbon copies, and tabulations. Speed has been increased from an average of 15 words per minute to 35 words per minute, some typing as many as 65 words a minute.

Typing students of the second semester will have their attention focused on the Interscholastic League district meet to be held in Canyon.

There's no such thing as perfect emotional balance, we once heard a noted psychologist say. And oddly enough, the person who gets credit for being strange may be nearer perfect balance than the run-of-the-mill fellow who thinks he's in harmony with his surroundings.

This observation sounded so silly that we couldn't forget it. Finally, it began to make sense.

Do you ever walk into a roomful of people where all except one single person greet you normally? Immediately you become more aware of the 'holder-out' than of all the rest, and you begin trying to smooth out that resistant bump on the horizon.

If so, you're working for perfect emotional balance in that roomful of people. If, on the other hand, you're aware only of yourself, you probably won't even notice the dissenter. Or worse, if your ego has got out of line, you'll make matters worse by setting up your own little corner of resistance, and further destroy the harmony of the group.

The most understanding person we know is keenly alive to the moods and philosophies of the persons he meets, whether socially or in business. He projects himself easily into the problems of others, and sometimes actually shudders or turns pale at a newspaper account of someone else's personal tragedy. So delicately is he attuned emotionally to his fellow man that a person who doesn't know him may say he 'takes things too hard' or 'borrows trouble.'

While we wouldn't go so far as to say that all the non-conformists are so sympathetic with their fellows that they're forever striving for perfect accord, still we'll have to agree that the psychologist's point has common sense behind it.

Good Shows Feature Of Palo Duro and Twin Drive-Ins

Convenient to this entire trade area are Amarillo's two outstanding drive-in theatres, the Palo Duro and the Twin. The management of these two popular drive-in theatres has always taken the greatest pride in the good, late pictures that they exhibit. The tastes of all ages is taken into consideration and it is for this reason that the well balanced programs seen at the Palo Duro and Twin are enjoyed by the entire family. Both of these drive-in theatres have the very best in car speakers and large screens where the picture is projected by the most modern equipment. The Palo Duro is equipped with in-car heaters and both serve the most delicious refreshments at their convenient snack bars.

If you don't have the Palo Duro and Twin habit, we suggest that you load up your car, take the kids just like they are and spend an evening at the Palo Duro or Twin and you will see that their slogan, "Entertainment For All The Family," is indeed true.

We are glad in this review edition of our paper to compliment Harold Wilson, manager of these two popular drive-in theatres, for the splendid programs that they always have, the modern equipment that adds so much to the patrons' comfort and the large variety of delicious items that they have at their snack bars. The Palo Duro and Twin Drive In Theatres are indeed a great asset to our community and we wish for them success in the years ahead.

And—the difference is the exclusive Easy-Vision Lens—the only feature in television designed to protect your eyes from strain!

Junior can tell the difference in a Hoffman. Because he can sit with nose practically pressed against the screen and watch a Hoffman with complete ease. Grandpaw, on the other hand, can sit clear across the room from his Hoffman and see every detail with perfect clarity. People with glasses and those with perfect vision can sit wherever they want, too... and watch a Hoffman as long as they want without eyestrain...

AND HERE'S WHY:

- Hoffman Easy-Vision Television is completely free from the bluish color that you see on all TV screens.
- This bluish light comes from the picture tube itself. It is an unnatural light—a light your eyes are not used to. Consequently, you find yourself squinting and straining to see the picture on ordinary TV.
- Not so with Hoffman! The exclusive Hoffman Easy-Vision Lens changes this hard-to-see bluish light into soft, warm tones of natural daylight. You sit back with complete ease, and watch the Hoffman picture naturally from any distance or for as long as you want.
- The Hoffman Easy-Vision Lens heightens the contrast—gives whiter whites; blacker blacks. You see all the details without squinting and straining!

Opera Workshop Stage Being Set

First preparations are being made for WT's second operetta, to be produced later this spring, according to Holmes Ambrose, director of the college Opera Workshop.

Work last weekend was done in the Administration Building Auditorium, by volunteer student help, and Ambrose, and with supplies from W. T. McGregor and the maintenance department. Old dressing rooms which stood at either corner of the stage were torn out, allowing an increase of some 160 square feet of stage and storage room.

"Our next urgently needed item is a main curtain," Ambrose said. "With a new curtain, we can enlarge the stage proscenium about two feet on either side. We need to enlarge the orchestra pit about three feet."

Success of last year's production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore," first opera to be given at the college, has spurred Ambrose to seek improvement of facilities in the auditorium. The seating capacity is about right, he said, for the programs, and with adequate stage arrangements, the auditorium could serve other purposes for smaller audiences.

In its two-night production last year, "H. M. S. Pinafore" drew some 1000 spectators, some coming from as far away as Clovis, Portales, Dalhart, Lubbock, and Denton.

Ambrose, and his helpers, might be found at odd hours in the auditorium, sawing, hammering, hauling debris, or painting, getting the stage set for the next WT operetta.

Mustering out pay to Korean veterans tops $250,000,000.
